If you are visually or hearing impaired, your computer's operating system has a built-in feature that allows you to easily see your screen or hear the words read to you.

Most commercial web sites are created using a Microsoft Operating System. The system has a settings icon, and on the settings icon, the system has an "EASE OF ACCESS" link. A similar feature exists in the Apple System.

On that link you can enlarge your screen to fit your requirements. On that link you can also engage a narrator feature which will read the contents of the page to you. Finally, there is a magnifier you can use.

And if you still need assistance, can call us at our main number and one of our staff will assist you personally.
